Frank's Dahlia Garden

Grower of the Finest American & Foreign Dahlias

160 Talbot Drive

Bedford, Ohio

MISS OHIO—This big winner with a beautiful shade of lilac rose color is the best stemmed, narrow petalled cactus in lavender class. The long florets are interlacing and are incurved, making up flowers that are deep and perfect. Grown normally, the blooms attain the size of 7x5 inches and are carried on long, medium size stems, well out of the foliage. The plants are vigorous growers with many branches coming from bottom, and are in bloom from mid-August till the end of season. Flowers have exceptionally good keeping qualities and may be cut with stems 3-4 feet long. It is a wonderful dahlia for garden, cutting and exhibition, and the roots keep well. 4½ feet. C. E.

Miss Ohio won following awards: Cleveland, 1934—Best Seedling; Mid-West Show at Cleveland, 1935—Best Undisseminated Cactus and Best Undisseminated Ohio origination; New York, 1935—Best Undisseminated Cactus and Best Undisseminated shipped by air (Silver Medal); Cleveland, 1936—Best Undisseminated Cactus, Best Lavender Cactus and Best 6-blooms Cactus; National Show at Detroit, 1936—Best Undisseminated Cactus, Most Outstanding Undisseminated, winning D. W. Hart Memorial Medal, The Most Distinctly Meritorious Undisseminated, winning The American Home Achievement Medal, and Best 6 Blooms Cactus, any other color; Mid-West Show at Cincinnati, 1936—The Best Undisseminated, winning O. V. D. A. Achievement Medal; New York, 1936—Shipments by air: Best Undisseminated shown by originator, A. D. S. Silver Medal, Best Variety on trial at A. D. S. Trial Grounds, A. D. S. Silver Medal; Storrs, Conn., 1936—Certificate of Merit.

Friends:

I want to thank you for your patronage of last year, hoping that your gardens brought you happiness and many enjoyable hours, as my garden did to me.

I know, that size has you hypnotized, and many of you believe, that the so-called giants and monsters are achievements of perfection and beauty. To me, they are unusual crosses in floral evolution, often products of careful feeding, watering and shading and as such, to be admired. And though they may be desirable, I do not believe, that they are of prime importance, because their size neither creates nor implies beauty. Perfection in flower is a combination of beauty, grace and usefulness and should never be sacrificed for size.

Medium size dahlias are my favorites and that is the reason why majority of my planting consists of cactus and semi-cactus varieties. They are wonderful bloomers and delight everybody not only with their colors, but also with the artistic formation and grace, they possess.

A few years ago, I started to save seeds from these varieties, believing, that someday their beauty and usefulness will be recognized and appreciated. My goal was, more and better cactus varieties. And now, it is my intention to acquaint you at the shows with the products of my labors, so that you can judge for yourself, whether they are worthy, or whether they are, just dahlias.

I take a great pleasure in sending you this descriptive list, that portrays also "Miss Ohio," my first introduction, of which I am proud. I appreciate your business, and trust, that you will favor me with a liberal share of it, for which I thank you in advance.

I remain sincerely yours,

FRANK J. PARENICA.
